LINCOLN AVENUE NOW WELL PAVED STREET

Contractors Finish, Tests are Made and Bill is Paid

ARE LAYING SIDEWALKS

Pretty Effect to be Given by Elevation—Retaining Walls Necessary

With paving completed, tests made of the work on Lincoln avenue from Fifth to Second street and Contractor John Hallam paid the entire contract sum together with $70 bonus for hustling through the work, Lincoln avenue is rapidly assuming its place as one of the best and most beautiful streets of the borough. Sidewalks are being laid along the paved portion and from Seventh to Eighth built.

A bond issue made possible the paving of Lincoln avenue. Originally it had been intended to improve the street with aid of the state. The lack of sufficient money to cover the expense of the work from the state's point of view led to the abandonment of this plan.

Contractor Hallam of Washington, began work on the street in the spring. He hurried, and with his hurry, had the benefit of ordinarily good weather. The cost of paving was $9,179.74, the final estimate being received by council this week.

Sidewalks along Lincoln avenue have to be elevated above the level of the street nearly its entire length. At some points along the lower side retaining walls are necessary.

Borough Clerk Ira L. Nickerson is now advertising for bids on the proposed paving and curbing of Lincoln avenue from Sixth street to the place of intersection of Lincoln avenue and Washington avenue. From this point it is proposed to pave to the intersection of Lincoln avenue and Fallowfield avenue.

WESTERN UNION OFFICE MOVED

In just two hours the office of the Western Union Telegraph company was moved from the second floor of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company to the Mail building Wednesday afternoon. The removal was made necessary by the dissolution generally of the Western Union and the Bell Telephone system. With the change the Western Union gets back into the office it occupied for years before the removal to the Charleroi Savings and Trust company.

BACHELOR GIRLS' CLUB GIVES SUMMER DANCE

The Bachelor Girls' club of Charleroi gave their first summer dance at Eldora park Wednesday evening. It was attended by a nice-sized crowd and was an affair that was greatly enjoyed. Couples attended not only from Charleroi, but from various other points along the Monongahela valley.

GAS EXPLODES BUT DAMAGE IS SLIGHT

Fright Caused at Midnight by Concussion, Breaking of Windows and Screams—Firemen Soon Extinguish Blaze

Sounds of a loud concussion and the breaking of glass and screams of "Fire" awoke residents of the vicinity of Sixth street and Fallowfield avenue at midnight. The sounds came from the home of Alphonse Pedro at 611 Fallowfield avenue, where an explosion occurred from escaping gas from a defective hose attached to a hot plate. Firemen were summoned hastily and prevented resultant fire from damaging the premises to any great extent.

Mr. Pedro is visiting in Europe. When the explosion occurred members of his family were asleep in the upper part of the house. They were awakened by the explosion and spread the report of fire. Practically the only damage wrought was that of the breaking of four windows in the rear of the house by the explosion and the scorching of the woodwork in the kitchen by the flames.

A call has been issued for a meeting of this newly appointed executive committee in the public meeting room of the court house on Monday morning, July 13, at 11 o'clock, for the election of a treasurer and the transaction of any other business under the rules of the party.

PLAYERS, NOT THE UMPIRE UP AGAINST IT; SIX OF HIM

If they start in to kill the umpire tomorrow at the baseball game between the Monongahela Elks and the Ancient and Illustrious Order of the Knights of the Skull, which will be played at Quinn park, New Eagle, at 5:30 o'clock, they will have some job. There is to be six umpires, who are the following men: Mike McGinty, Mayor L. C. Isler, Ben Ross, Howard Borland, Benjamin Forsythe and James Berkshire.

MORGANTOWN RACE MEET TO BE HELD IN AUGUST

George Davidson and Phillip Hindman of Morgantown, were here a short time Wednesday evening enroute in the former's auto for Pittsburgh advertising the Morgantown race meet, which will be held on the track at Morgantown, August 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. This is to be strictly a race meet. A motorcycle race will take place each day in connection with the horse racing.

CONTRACT FOR ELECTRIC LINE WINS APPROVAL

The contract of the Monongahela, Ellsworth and Washington Street Railway company with Monongahela City for the extension of the time for placing the railway in regular operation, and also for the reduction of the amount of payment for the second extension as designated by an ordinance of Monongahela, was approved by the Public Service commission of Pennsylvania in Harrisburg Wednesday.

The company was organized some time ago for the purpose of building a line from Monongahela to Washington by way of Pigeon creek valley, taking in Bentleyville and Ellsworth. Since the work has been pushed on the line from Charleroi to Bentleyville the Monongahela proposition has lagged.

CORNERSTONE OF HOSPITAL LAID TODAY

A number of Charleroi Masons attended the laying of the cornerstone of the Brownsville General Hospital which was laid there today at noon with appropriate ceremonies.

Preceding the exercises at the hospital there was a big parade in which thousands participated. In this parade there were delegations from various Masonic organizations in Western Pennsylvania.

The ceremonies connected with the laying of the cornerstone were very impressive and were witnessed by thousands of people, including many that were not Masons.

Austrians Want Equal Suffrage So Come Here to Get it

MEETINGS BEING HELD

Extensive preparations are being made at Monessen to receive within two or three weeks Count Stephen Karolyn and eight members of the Hungarian parliament or congress, who are traveling in this land in the interests of universal suffrage for male citizens in their country. The count and his party arrived in New York on Saturday.

A number of public meetings will be held in America. Among them one will be arranged for either the Star theatre or the Opera House at Monessen, the subject to be discussed to be for interesting and inciting local Hungarians and their friends to urge their people back home to support only those for public office who will favor universal suffrage.

The count is a wealthy man, but he and his family have always been democratic. He comes from one of the oldest noble families of Europe and has always taken an active part in movements favoring the common people.

Women of Charleroi to Ceremoniously Present Emblem

ARRANGING CAMPFIRE

Notable Feature of Assemblage to be Conducted at Baseball Park

When the forty-first annual Ringgold reunion is held in Charleroi on August 20 and 21 one of the features will be the presentation of a flag to the Charleroi Veteran Guard by women of Charleroi. Arrangements have been made for securing the flag and arrangements will be made later for its presentation.

The campfire that will be one of the leading events of the reunion will be held on the first evening of the reunion. According to present plans, it will take place at the baseball park where greater attention can be paid to detail toward serving the purpose of reviving memories of war times among the old soldiers.

Col. A. J. Greenfield, of Chicago, who is one of the most noted of the command living today, will attend the reunion if he is able. He has not missed a reunion for years and last year was a conspicuous figure at the meeting of the battalion in Monessen.

There is no discount allowed on them. They are payable at once until October 1. After that a penalty of five per cent will be added.

KNIGHTS OF MALTA PICNIC JULY 25 TO BE ELABORATE EVENT

Kennywood park will be the scene Saturday, July 25, of one of the most enjoyable events of the season, when the Knights of Malta will hold their second annual field day and outing. The proceeds of the picnic will go into the Knights of Malta home and hospital fund, in which everyone of the 35,000 Knights in Pennsylvania are interested.

Last year there were over 15,000 people at the outing, and the present indications are that this year will be double that number. Interest is growing and the list of participants in the various sports is being rapidly filled. Considerable interest is being shown in competitive drill that will be held between the uniformed knights of the various commanderies. This part of the program will be under the captaincy of Past Grand Commander John G. Miles of Wilkensburg.

What Constitutes Success?

There are different standards of judging. John W. Wana maker ought to know something about it. He has attained his goal in the business world where his opinion carry weight. Listen to what he says.

The chief reason that everybody is not successful is the fact that he has not enough persistence. Do one thing well throwing all your energies into it. The successful man, unlike the poet, is made, not born.

CRIME THAT WAS HUSHED UP

For Various Reasons the Police Were Not Informed of a Recent Daring Robbery.

There was a robbery recently at a home in Broadway, south of Thirty-second street, that was not reported to the police, relates the Indianapolis News. Really there was no need to have the police cavorting about the place—the person who was robbed expressed no wish for their assistance, and the stolen goods were recovered.

The person who was robbed was a boy, just a little fellow about eight or nine, or maybe seven months old—it is very trying for an ordinary man to judge a baby's age. And this little person was playing on the front porch of his home at the time of the robbery. He was in a sort of corral about three feet high, with sides of spindles, and having just the best time possible with his toys.

And then the villain appeared. He was a villain with a flat little nose and a fat little stomach, and he crept stealthily up and peered inquisitively through the spindles at the very little boy, and the very little boy peered out at him with that air of world-old wisdom peculiar to the very little folk.

The flat little nose was thrust between two of the spindles, and the fat little stomach followed in due course, and then their owner, a little brindle pup, was within the corral. Possibly he was a little thief by nature, or possibly he was a victim of sudden temptation. But anyway, he stole the toys of that very little boy, one by one and carried them over to the front porch of his home next door, where he was having the best time possible when he was discovered and the spoils of his expedition taken from him and returned to their rightful owner.

DOGS AS ARTILLERY HORSES

Proposition Under Consideration in France Seems to Have Much to Recommend It.

The French First army corps is said to be considering the adoption of dogs for hauling artillery. The dogs in question are the big Flemish animals, which are largely utilized in the north of France for dragging milk carts and other vehicles.

From the economic standpoint there is a good deal to be said in favor of the replacement of the horse by the dog so far as light artillery is concerned. A good Flemish dog can be bought for 100 francs, and the cost of feeding it does not exceed fifty centimes a day. The lowest price of an artillery horse is 400 francs, and the daily cost of its upkeep amounts to two francs. In other words, the first cost of the horse is at least four times as great, and it costs four times as much to feed. Moreover, for 100 francs it is possible to buy a dog in much better condition than the majority of the French artillery horses.

After the Forest Fire

Wallace, Idaho, is still suffering from the disastrous forest fires of 1910, which burned over the watershed that furnishes the water supply of the city. This basin included an area of 2,000 acres and was formerly well timbered with trees from fifty to two hundred years old. These were destroyed by the fires of 1910. The city used to get its water supply not only for domestic purposes, but also for the development of electricity for power and light from that watershed. Before the fires the flow of the stream, at its lowest stages, was never below 1,000 miners' inches. Since the fire the records show that the minimum flow has fallen to about two hundred and fifty miners' inches. Each year they have to get power from steam and to use a considerable part of this power in pumping water. Records of the weather bureau at Wallace show that the precipitation for the years since the fire has been about normal for the region. This seems to demonstrate that the unevenness in the flow must be due to the destruction of the forest cover of the watershed and not to any change in climate or precipitation. The United States forest service has undertaken to reforest the denuded watershed.

How the Boy Scouts Help

A story illustrating the helpfulness of Boy Scouts to those on the road is related by a correspondent.

"I had a puncture near Farnborough, Kent, a few days ago," he said, "and I was busily mending it when a troop of scouts came along and, to my surprise, the scoutmaster ordered them to halt.

"Can we help you, sir?" he said. "We have motoring experts in the troop."

"Two very small scouts—who had proficiency badges for 'motor repairing' and 'puncture mending'—stepped forward and saluted. I am sorry I did not need help."—London Mirror.

Great French Bacteriologist

Dr. Eugene Dorey, who denies the claims set forth by radium experts that radium will cure cancer, is regarded as the greatest bacteriologist France has produced since Pasteur. He was born in 1859 and has devoted his life to the study of bacteriology. Among the discoveries to which he lays claim is that of the "cancer microbe." Despite occasional criticism by his brother physicians that his methods are unorthodox, his high position and brilliant record compel attention to him and his views.

Advertising

COMMONSENSE people all now recognize the value of letting the public know who you are, and what you have to offer in the world in the way of commodity or service.

WHEN we speak of advertising we speak of the most powerful force that acts today in the world of business.

THE American people form by all odds the best educated and most open-minded public in the world. All they want is the truth, and when get that, they act clearly, logically and some times with surprising speed.

THE public wants to know the facts. It wants the facts about a kind of shoe or a brand of flour. It wants to know the kind of stuff that goes into a suit of clothes or a package of crackers.

The One Thing Above All Others

The Public Demands is Publicity

IT has learned to be very skeptical about any event that occurs in the dark.

DO not keep your light under a bushel and create the opinion that you are no longer in business. Let the people know what you have to offer to them.

NEWSPAPER ADVANCEMENT

The honesty of newspapers in general is seldom impugned nowadays. Whatever may have been the journalistic sins of omission or commission in the old days, the standard has been rising so steadily that it is now the exceptional paper which lays itself open to serious criticism in either its editorial or business conduct. Never before have editors and publishers had so high a sense of their responsibilities, says an exchange.

The standard of current newspaper practice as plainly indicated in the action taken by the Associated Advertising clubs of the world in their convention at Toronto. The delegates adopted this set of principles as expressing the duties of daily papers:

To print all news that is worth while.

To print it without bias and with a sense of responsibility.

To protect the honest advertiser and the general reader from deceptive or offensive or detrimental practices.

To sell advertising as a commodity on the basis of proved circulation and capable service.

To maintain uniform rates according to classification.

To accept no advertising that is antagonistic to public welfare.

To print regularly a detailed statement of net paid circulation.

Above all, to be sincere alike with readers and advertisers.

It is to be observed that this is not the statement of a future ideal but an expression of the present policy of the typical American newspaper.

DOGS.

It may be tough on dogs, but if a few hundred owners fail to pay taxes on them in Washington county before August 1, not much kick will be made. Extermination of a few hundred canines would be eminently pleasing to a goodly portion of the population and that follows failure to pay.

Dogs have become dreadfully promiscuous within the last few years—either that or dreadfully promiscuous in their behavior. They are a distinct nuisance.

Nineteen claims for sheep killed by dogs have just been allowed in the county. They cost the county $868.25. This is only for a short period, too, and aggregates but a small sum compared to the total expenditure necessitated yearly from ravages of these blood-thirsty animals. From nineteen dogs, the tax revenue for one year would be $19. That is considerably less than $868, and there is doubt that it took 19 dogs to cause those 19 heavy claims. More likely the number would be about five, which would make the comparison seem all the more ridiculous.

The idea of a dog day for the extermination of dogs that do not wear the license tag is a good one. If 1,000 canines are killed in this county on August 1, it might save $8,000 worth of sheep. Also it might save some of us energetic cusswords who have to bother with despoiled yards and dirty porches.

ANOTHER COW TESTING ASSOCIATION IS FORMED

Another cow testing association has been formed in Washington county. The dairymen included in this second organization are from the Hickory, Pea and Woodrow sections. Only 20 names have been secured, but six others are ready to become members. The fact that two organizations of this kind were formed in Washington county in a week's time goes to show that the dairymen are alert to their best interests. An effort will be made to form the third association along the Pathande and in the Venice section on the Wabash.

FIND PROFIT IN OLD SYSTEM

Georgia Farmers Re-establish Smoke-houses of Ante-Bellum Days and Are Making Money.

A number of farmers in Brooks county, Georgia, have been going back to methods once common, but which have been superseded of late years, to their own considerable profit, and to the advantage of certain consumers. These farmers objected to the commercial system under which they were receiving but seven and eight cents a pound for the pork which they raised, while they saw the ham and bacon of commerce retailing in their own markets for 25 cents a pound. They resolved to re-establish the ante-bellum smokehouses on their farms and immediately carried the resolution into effect.

Through co-operation they have commenced marketing their products in the finished form, and are building up an extensive business. They find that the profits which they make from curing their own meats are relatively larger, considering the time and expense involved, than those which they were receiving from marketing hogs on the hoof.

The remarkable thing about this profitable experiment is that it has not been worked out in any of the grain centers or near any of the country's great markets, but in a remote county in the extreme southern part of Georgia, in a "one crop" section, and that crop cotton.—Marion Times-Tribune.

MAYOR OBJECTED TO "GRILL"

Incident at Recent "Gridiron Dinner" at Boston That Has Its Humorous Side.

They had a kind of gridiron dinner in Boston recently—one of those farcical banquets in which everybody is grilled. But it seems that Mayor Curley belied his Irish blood by proving unable to "stand the grill," and left the dinner in a rage. A painful impression was left by the incident, and the Boston-papers agree that Boston isn't really adapted to gridiron dinners.

This seems to be natural enough, but the funny fact is that Boston was the place of origin of these "spooning" and farcical dinners. The old Papyrus club invented them thirty or forty years ago and carried them on for many years before the Gridiron club of Washington took up the idea and developed it into something richer and stronger.

The Papyrus jokes were always directed at new members or guests, and many a staid Bostonian has found himself the astonished focus of fantastic "compliments" that made his blood run cold, or mock denunciation that would have fitted Judas Iscariot or Benedict Arnold, and of tales and charges that were abominable. Boston survived these—but possibly Brother Curley was never "entertained at the Papyrus"—New York Mail.

Men Most Subject to Deafness.

According to a French statistician, males are more subject to aural diseases than females, and out of every seven middle-aged persons there are two who do not hear so well with one ear as with the other.

In every thousand children under fifteen years of age four per cent show symptoms of ear disease, and six per cent a marked deficiency in hearing power.

The liability to disease increases from birth to the age of forty, and then begins gradually to decrease as old age advances.

Out of the total number of cases subjected to surgical treatment in France in one year it is estimated that about fifty-seven per cent were cured and thirty per cent permanently improved.

Test for Mental Deficiency.

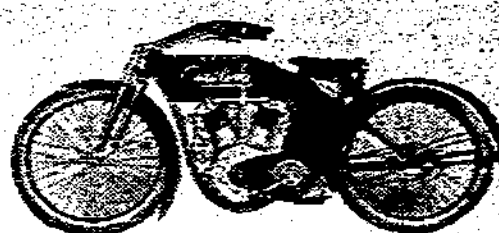

A Belgian physician, Doctor De-moor, has been making observations on the capacity of different people for judging which of two weights is the heavier, and has satisfied himself that, while ordinary people, especially children, fail to appreciate a small difference, the reverse is the case with the imbecile, idiotic and half-witted. He prepared two bottles, differing in size, partly filled with a heavy mineral but covered all over with black paper and exactly equal in weight. These he handed to 350 children of from six to fifteen years of age. Of these 370 judged one bottle to be the heavier. The other ten said the two were the same weight. These ten children were all abnormal or degenerate.

Studied Insult.

"I wish," said the waiter who had been serving the man with the hard face and the pert looking chortle girl, "I could think of some way to get even with that fellow. He complained about everything I put on the table and growled about every move I made." "What did his bill amount to?" "A dollar and ninety cents." "And how much money did he hand you?" "A two-dollar bill." "It's easy. Have it in two nickels when you return the change."

Too Complex for an Ordinary Mind. "Only one man in ten thousand clearly understands the currency question!" declared old Uncle Foggy. "I am sure of it, because that is just about the proportion of the people I talk with about it who agree with me."—Kansas City Star.

OUT OF TOUCH WITH TIMES

Ideas Calmly Put Forth by Prominent Men Sound Much Like the Ravings of Idiocy.

"No young man should marry until he has $100,000 in the bank," is the dictum of a venerable money-changer who has spent his life (and the lives of some hundreds of others) in the accumulation of several times that sum. He considers the figure a modest one for a starter. The same gentleman has also been heard to remark, during a discussion of the smoke nuisance, that people who object to smoke should live at Tarrytown or in Montclair.

A chief of police is putting himself on record as opposed to "violence." "I stand for law and order. If I had the authority I would shoot down these strikers like dogs."

And a brother of his craft thus expounds his theory of the administration of justice:

"I don't care whether you can hold these people morally responsible or not. I don't care whether they are actually guilty or not. It is necessary to make an example of some one, and you must punish the man you can get hold of."—Seymour Dening, in the Atlantic.

Nice Distinction.

In regard to the question of preference as between bachelor and benedict, it is always pleasant to revert to the delicate distinction set forth by General Lafayette in a conversation during his second visit to America. He shook hands with 8,000 men in one day, says the legend, and used but seven words in all. He asked each one: "Are you married?" If the answer was yes, he exclaimed: "Fortunate fellow!" If no, "Lucky dog!" After a long lull, a friend asked how the general could reconcile his congratulations to wedded and single men alike. "The Frenchman laughed and answered: 'Why, my dear boy, can you not perceive the vast difference between a lucky dog and a fortunate fellow?'"

Seating the Bakers.

"Oh, I am almost tired to death!" said the woman who spends half her time addressing club meetings. "Our political economy club has been in session all day passing resolutions and drawing up petitions demanding a law regulating the price of bread. Only think! Three dollars worth of flour costs, when baked into bread, $13. It's outrageous. We'll soon all be bankrupt. The bakers must be made to feel the power of the law. You should have been at the meeting." "I couldn't come. I was too busy," said the calm-faced woman. "Busy on a club day? What on earth at?" "Baking bread," said the calm-faced woman.

Many Uses for Telephone.

The telephone is being put to many strange uses as a labor-saver and an emergency aid. In the cost-keeping systems in many factories the workmen do not keep their own time records, but telephone to the bookkeeper whenever they start or finish a job so that he can make the entry. Automatic telephone temperature recorders are used in orchards to save fruit crops from frost. When the temperature falls the central operator is notified, so that she can arouse the farm hands and send them out with smudge pots.

Concession.

Mr. Edison has at last succeeded in raising a lively discussion as to the relative merits of chewing tobacco and smoking cigarettes. Is it one generation against another?—Spring-Field Republican.

MEAL COST CALF ITS LIFE

Owner of Money on Which Animal Had Made Light Lunch Got Most of It Back.

An amusing story that will interest those who read "The Dump" in the Companion is told by Mr. Jack Blasengame, an old Texas cattleman.

"A good many years ago," says Mr. Blasengame, "my brother and I were buying cattle in East Texas. In those days people were not quick to accept a stranger's check, and we had to take the cash along with us. We also carried along our branding iron, and put our brand on the cattle as soon as we bought them."

"One day we bought a little bunch of yearlings from a widow, and among them was a motherless calf that had been raised as a pet."

"We penned the yearlings in the lady's cowpen, and when we began the work of branding I pulled off my coat and hung it on a corner of the rail fence. In the inside pocket of my coat was a leather bill book that contained $750 in $10 and $20 bills. While we were busy at our work, the pet calf pulled the bill book out of my coat pocket, and in some way got it open; before we discovered him, he had swallowed the entire $750, and was chugging on the bill book."

"Of course there was nothing for us to do except to kill the calf. This we did, and in its stomach we found the mutilated money, but in the whole lot there was not a scrap larger than a postage stamp. We took the sticky mass of paper and spread it out on a wagon sheet, and sunned it until it was perfectly dry. Then we took it to the nearest post office and sent it to Washington. The treasury department redeemed $750 of the money."

"HOBBO" A MAN OF WEALTH

Arrested and Fined for Drunkenness. Vagrant Liquidated From Large Roll of Real Money.

The flashing of a roll of greenbacks amounting to more than one thousand dollars by a supposed hobo, arrested on the streets of Upland on a drunk charge, caused a stir in Judge George H. Crane's court.

When the man, who is apparently fifty years of age, was arrested he gave the name of F. W. McWilliam, but later developments showed his true name to be Finley Graham. A search by the officers before the man was placed in jail produced from Graham's clothing stale bits of lunch, a razor and a pocket knife.

When taken to court the man wept bitterly, with the result that Judge Crane pronounced the light sentence of ten dollars or ten days in jail with the expectation that he would take the latter. Contemplation reigned when he produced the "long green" from a secret pocket which the officers had overlooked in their search. Graham also had in his possession a bank book showing deposits of $5,000 in a Los Angeles savings bank. Ontario Dispatch to the Los Angeles Times.

Weight of One Cipher

The case in the Irish courts of a telegram in which the price per head to be given for nine calves was altered by a blunder from four pounds five shillings to five pounds five shillings, could easily be paralleled from the post office records.

Among the elder telegraphists, according to F. E. Baines, "On the Track of the Mail Coach," a tradition lingers of a telegram having been sent to Portugal or Spain, ordering 5,000 boxes of oranges. In the course of transmission an additional cipher crept in. Fifty thousand boxes would require several steamers. The legend mentions ten vessels in all, which in due course were loaded and dispatched from Portugal, to the dismay of the consigner.

MONONGAHELA SCHOOL PLACES ARE FILLED

At a meeting of the Monongahela school board held in the Central building Tuesday evening, Monday, August 31, was selected as the date for the opening of the next term of school at Monongahela. It was also decided that during the school term that the following holidays should be observed: Thanksgiving day and the Friday following, December 18th to January 4th, and Good Friday.

The following janitors for the different buildings were elected: Minor Harrington, First ward building; Harry DeWalt, Second ward and Judson Leaver for the Lincoln building, in the Third ward.

Edward Messenger was re-elected as attendance officer and janitor for the old school building.

Teachers elected to fill vacancies were: Thomas T. Hill, principal of high school Nell M. McLaughlin, M. Leslie Hutchinson and Garnet Tennant to fill grade positions. As substitutes, Mrs. S. L. Hayward and Miss Jean Strouse were elected.

After other business had been disposed of the board decided to hold a joint teachers' institute in conjunction with Charleroi and Donora the institute to be held in Monongahela City, August 24 to 28, 1914.

The board organized for the coming year. Owing to the fact that Joseph T. Herion was elected president of the board last December, the only officers to be named last night were secretary and treasurer. Henry Louit was re-elected secretary and William Alexander, treasurer.

INJURY TO BOY RESULTS IN SUIT FOR BIG DAMAGES

William and Mary Comer have filed an action against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., to recover $8,000 damages alleged due by reason of the death of their son, John Comer, aged seven years, killed when run down by a train of the defendant company in Allen township.

The accident occurred on July 18, 1913. It is set forth that on that date the child was about to cross the double tracks of the railroad at a crossing in said township, used for many years by pedestrians and others, from houses lying between the railroad and the Monongahela river. It is further set out that the child was waiting for a slow moving freight to pass, which train was going north, and while doing so was standing near the south bound track. While standing there, it is stated, a work train came along at a high rate of speed, striking the boy, killing him instantly. It is alleged the train approached without warning, without whistling or ringing of the bell.

BELLE VERNON TO FACE LOCAL CLUB SATURDAY

Charleroi will face a hot rival for honors in the Monongahela Valley league on Saturday afternoon at Charleroi, when Belle Vernon will appear for one of its first games of the season here. The Belle Vernon team has been playing remarkable ball. For quite a while it had Charleroi crowded out of second place and now is making a noise like getting back. If Belle Vernon wins on Saturday, that club will shoot forth into second place. Then if Monessen wins from Fayette City, Page A. A. will tie with Charleroi for third place. There is no danger of Fayette City losing first place just yet.

The Charleroi club has fixed up the ball grounds and made repairs on the diamond that puts it in good shape for the season.

CHARLEROI GETS CLOSE CONTEST FROM DUNLEVY

Kelleway permitted but two hits for Dunlevy. His teammates on the Charleroi club banged the ball for nine hits. Charleroi won the game 3 to 2.

That is the shortest way of stating occurrences at the village of Dunlevy Wednesday evening in a Monongahela Valley league struggle. The game was fast and there was good playing all the way through. Crowl for Dunlevy pitched what ordinarily would have been good ball, but against Kelleway he was up against frightful odds.

Cratty carried off the batting honors with four good hits. Mathers did all the scoring. The score:

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Um, yes! Ah! Um!" remarked the doctor in his best bedside manner to his patient, as they stood in the consulting room. "I'll give you the following prescription." And he handed him the small packages.

The patient opened them and read the directions.

"A powder for my headache," he said aloud, "a pellet for my liver," he continued, "and a capsule for my gouty foot."

Then he stopped and pondered deeply for a moment. "I say, doctor," he queried, "how'll the little beggars know the right place to go when they get inside?"

"From your millionaire down to your gamin you are quick, nimble, and sparkling in retort. Your gamin's wit is sometimes cruel. It caused a friend of mine to flush and mutter an evil oath one day last week in New York. 'My friend in a hurry to catch a train ran out of his hotel toward a cab and a ragged little boy opened the cab door for him and handed in his valise. He gave the boy nothing. In his hurry, you see, he forgot. The disappointed urchin smiled sourly and called this order to the driver: "Nearest poorhouse, cabby!"
